MANAUS

Manaus is situated at the confluence of the Negro and Solimões rivers. It is the most populous city of Amazonas as well as a popular ecotourist destination due to its location. Visitors come to see the forest's wildlife on its lands and its rivers. Tour boats leave Manaus towards the "Meeting of the Waters", where the black waters of the Negro River meet the brown waters of the Solimoes River, flowing side by side without mixing themselves up for about 6 miles. One can also explore river banks and "igarapes", swim and practice canoe in placid lakes or simply walk in the lush forest or stay at hotels in the jungle.

AMAZON

The Amazonia is the biggest biological reserve of the world, with numerous natural resources. A third of the living species on earth are in the Amazonian Forest. The Amazonas, a 5.500 km river, is the longest one in the world.
