CREATING EMOTIONS

Brazil Sensations a 100% green DMC

Brazil Sensations is the first Brazilian DMC to engage itself in the carbon offset of its activities.

Besides our daily gestures to minimize our impact to our planet, Brazil Sensations decided not only to be ecological and socially sustainable, but as well to reinforce the regenerative tourism.

Following a long expertise by Agroforestry Carbon, our CO₂ emissions are compensated in the form of contribution to certified projects in Brazil.

In line with the UN's Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), our actions are concentrated in reforestation, preserving forests and its biodiversity as well as renewable energy sources whilst assuring the protection of vulnerable local populations.

These days, it has become difficult to ignore the impact that our tourism projects in Brazil can have to the environment. OLINDA

Olinda is the first capital of Pernambuco registered as "cultural and natural heritage of humanity" by UNESCO. In addition to its material heritage, Olinda is particularly famous for its Carnival when colorful parades of giant puppets and dancers take over the streets.

RECIFE

Recife, the capital of Pernambuco, is a thriving metropolis. Founded in 1537 by Portuguese explorers, Recife was originally built on two islands connected by several bridges, earning it the nickname of the Brazilian Venice. In 1630, Recife was occupied by the Dutch and became New Holland. It was during this time that Dutch Jews built Brazil's first synagogue, Kahal Zur Israel. The Portuguese, aided by the natives, expelled the Dutch in 1654. The refounded city remained for a long time considered a small village until 1823, when it gained city status. In 1837, it became the capital of Pernambuco.
